

Drowning Pool, Nothingness

And this blood on my hands, Now it won't go away
I've been out on this road, For days
And the fear on the wall, Watch it slowly cascade
As the door holds the wolves at bay, At bay
The emptiness is building from the nothingness, That we've all become Yeah that we've all become
And this road that I've chosen has taken it's toll
Leading far, far away from the soul
And the fear on the wall, Watch it slowly cascade
As the door holds the wolves at bay, At bay
The emptiness is building from the nothingness, That we've all become
The nothingness, This thing I've become seems it's taken control of My mind and my body, my will and my soul
Driving further and further away from myself
Until there's nothing left, I've become something else
The emptiness is building from the nothingness, That we've all become (x3)
That's we've all become (x7)