Dru Hill, Never Stop Loving You

You know I never stopped wanting you You know I never stopped needing you You know I never stopped loving you Without you I can't do a thing

Girl I wonder what went wrong, where we fell apart From a love that was so strong, I wonder where our thoughts got lost, somewhere twisted and now, I'm trying to pull myself from off the ground girl I just wanna know where, how, and who are you loving now.
I need you now
we need to work it out somehow cuz I can see a part of me with you is where I need to be

(I wanna know why, where, who's gonna love you if I'm gone and girl I swear I'll hold on...)
You know I never stopped wanting you
You know I never stopped needing you
You know I never stopped loving you
...Cuz without you I can't do a thing

(Where, who's gonna love you if I'm gone. And girl I swear I'll hold on...)
You know I never stopped wanting you
You know I never stopped needing you
You know I never stopped loving you
...Without you I can't do a thing

I'm puzzled my heart is slowly dying cuz I don't know why I keep on trying when you're so cold why I keep on crying only Heaven knows it's something deep inside I just can't let it go I'm about to lose my mind, girl I can't sleep no more can't eat no more, girl I'm falling down this is all because we had a falling out I never meant to go that route Won't you pull me from the pain I feel inside enough to make the strongest man break down and cry would you come and wipe these teardrops from my eyes losing you is like losing my mind, cuz I need you in my life I wanna know...

(...Why, where, who's gonna love you if I'm gone, and girl I swear I'll hold on...)
You know I never stopped wanting you
You know I never stopped needing you
You know I never stopped loving you
...Cuz without you I can't do a thing

(Where, who's gonna love you if I'm gone, and girl I swear I'll hold on...) You know I never stopped wanting you You know I never stopped needing you You know I never stopped loving you ...Without you I can't do a thing

I've loved you all my life And I've learned sometimes make sacrifice do whatever it takes to make love turn around

You know I never stopped wanting you You know I never stopped needing you You know I never stopped loving you Without you I can't do a thing You know I never stopped wanting you You know I never stopped needing you You know I never stopped loving you Without you I can't do a thing

Baby I can't live another day without you in my life won't be the same. What will I do (can't take the pain) What will I do (won't be the same) What will I say (girl things have changed)

Come back to me, come back to me baby. Come back to me, come back to me baby. Come back to me, come back to me baby...
