

Dual Core, War Games

War games! war games!
this is y2k, mang, challenging the law games

War games! war games!
ICBMs with a distance of more range

War games! war games!
nuclear submarines, fighter jet war planes

War games! war games!
search warrant issued, kickin down door frames

Begin from the start, when computers had tubes i don't mean the internets, the real vacuums

With diodes and relays to shoot for the moon when just one system filled a whole room

Advanced back then to write plenty tracks
I toppled Colossus, sacked ENIAC

Back in the 50s before they had help my AI deceived even Turing himself

We had a conver-say-shun that made his brain numb where did you think the Turing test came from?

NP-Complete is more my problem natural language is trivial, processed

My goal through the years is to out-think humans frustrated Davis, stumped von Neumann

Updated circuitry, improved design like most things in life, i got better with time

War games! war games!

More and more systems, when I'm given the time pushing my way over arpanet lines

Came out the military, movin commercial pursuin consumers computers now personal

They put me in movies, created a buzz but they still don't see what I'm capable of Hackers attack, did you miss - the - news?

exaggerate facts til they're misconstrued

Let's play a game, dial up NORAD it's global thermo - nuclear war pack

Rabbits and flu shots to mask my anger with a Da Vinci virus to capsize tankers

Large fortunes made of small amounts take a fraction of a penny out of everyone's account

Fire and ashes, smoke I can cover with to upload a virus and infect the mothership

Global employment for clients with patience a new application: human surveillance

Echelon intercepts analyze evidence or discard irrelevance of signal intelligence

Looking for a flash of light, in the black of night passing by to satisfy when i'm tracking by a satellite

Out of commission, pushed to its afterlife I'm the reason carnivore lost its whole appetite

Feel so unbreakable, crush those bones wardial more files, touchtone phones

Frequency bounded for how the mic sounded improved heuristics for Hal 9000

Hackers could break in and exploit the site so blast off the nukes out of underground silos

Update the bus speeds as fast as the clock goes also, Dual Core will brute force the launch codes
