

Dubstar, Believe In Me

Because I'm dumb I send this message to you
It's been so long now
Because I'm wrong I sing this message for you
For you to know
That the plans for the man on the back of your hands
Are over, they're over now
The plan that we planned with the love of our land
Is over, there's only guilt

Believe in me
Release
Believe in me
Escape with me

Believe, indeed, because I wanted you
Believe the truth
And every word that I said you knew
I spoke for you
That the plans for the man on the back of your hands
Are over, they're over now
The plan that we planned with the love of our land
Is over, there's only me

Believe in me
Release
Believe in me
Escape from me

Because guilt is the loneliest feeling
The plan that we planned with the love of our land
Is over, there's only me

Believe in me
Release, me
Believe in me
Escape, with me

Believe in me
Release, me
Believe in me
Escape from me

Because guilt is the loneliest feeling
