

Dubstar, Leaving

There she goes
Flirting
Another lonely man
Takes the cab home with him
His wallet in her hands
She'll need the cash

'Cause she's leaving in the morning
She's the first to realize
That a new world is dawning
It's another way to take control

There he goes
Drinking
Looking for a sign
Of something more like friendship
Or even love
This time
He'll wake
Alone

'Cause she's leaving in the morning
And he doesn't realize
There's a new world dawning
It's another night
Just another night

And I have seen the signs
In people left behind
'Cause in this game of small design
There are no winners
Only players

Flirt with them
Laugh with them
Sleep and
Depart
Forget to leave a number
No address for your heart
They'll never forgive you

'Cause you're leaving in the morning
And they didn't realize
That a new world is dawning
It's another way to love
It's another way
Another way
It's another way
Another way
It's just another way
