

Dubstar, Song No. 9

I came to this town
A weekend with my boyfriend
His final year away
This time

Remember
How we sneaked around the last time
Then without a sound
We knew

That New Year's just around the corner
Somehow
I should be somebody's partner

But we know he's working late
A barman at the Union
And left me in the house
You were there

Remember
Your alarm clock on his bedside
And thinking we'd be heard
No one came

Christmas seems so far behind me
We know New Year couldn't be the same

You can't face me
I'm just your flatmate's girlfriend
And Monday I'll be gone
Till then
I won't touch you
I won't smile
I won't try
You will laugh and be the same
I won't cry
New Year's going to be the same
