

Duct Tape, Sickened To The Bone, Sticken All Ni

This sinking feeling of the end, is taking over me (the world is falling and i'm giving in again) I've been cheated of my right, and i want it all back (something is wrong, i know its wrong) but its never too late to breathe and you don't get what you see if thats what you want to be when your done

the day is getting longer but i'm still standing here waiting fighting made me stronger but i have crossed the line hating every single second that we are apart this distance isn't easy so lets back to the start alone in the dark

I Whisper in your ear, and tell you not to hear, the things i'm gonna say, things i'm gonna say to you and i'm not lying cause when its all said and done, i am not the one to have some fun

SICKEND TO THE BONE, STICKEN ALL NIGHT LONG

this distance isn't easy so lets back to the start (x2)
