Duff McKagan, Just not there

"Why does everything always end up feeling so goddamn cold" Once again I woke up this morning

And a warm spot still long cold gone

Then smell of you and your sweet perfume

Still lingers on, lingers on, lingers

Chorus

I wrap my arms around you But all I get is icy cold yeah

Run my hands through Your long blonde hair

But once again you're just not there

Just not there

You know I look but just can't find the reasons

To face another day

Cause I feel like crawling up inside

Just fading away, fading away, fading away...

Chorus

That's alright, girl

I want you to know that I'll keep on walking

I got both my feet on the ground And check it out I'm gonna stick it to you

Yesterday I met a girl just like you She had the same smile and same sweet perfume

So I turned around and walked away Me, my blade and my bottle of blues

My bottle of blues My bottle of blues

Chorus Repeat

That's alright, girl

I keep walking, I keep walking, I keep walking, I keep walking, I keep walking
