

Duke Special, Our Love Goes Deeper Than This

She loved me once, loved me twice
I broke her heart and left her reeling
I could not look her in the eyes
I could not face where this was leading

I know that I should lose her now
It's true I don't deserve her

And though I'll love her til I die
I know that I must leave her

She said no, (no!) our love goes deeper than this
She said no, (no!) our love goes deeper than this

I sent a rose, a blackened rose
To atone for my mistreating
But when she pressed it to her breast
It pierced her flesh and left her bleeding

I know that I should lose her now
It's true I don't deserve her

And though I'll love her til I die
Now I must dessert her

She said no, (no!) our love goes deeper than this
She said no, (no!) our love goes deeper than this

Even though there's poison in each kiss

She said no, (no!) our love goes deeper than this

(musical interlude)

And no I can't undo what's done

It's true I don't deserve her

And though I'll love her til I'm gone
Now I must dessert her

She said no, love goes deeper than this
She said no, our love goes deeper than this

She said no, our love goes deeper than this
She said no, our love goes deeper than this
