

Dum Dums, Equal Spread Of Sunshine

If it feels like youre crawling through crap
If your boss is breaking your back
Lets take our bones and silicone
And leaves the drones alone to moan
Your time will come, sometime

Cause theres an equal spread of sunshine
An equal share of rain
An equal run of bad times in this world
Of the good men and the wicked
An equal fall of fortune
An equal spread of sunshine in this world
In this world

If they hurt you... and they will
You can assume theyve been hurt too
So have so little soul they try to take yours away
But if they tell you youll never make it
Dont believe what they say

Cause theres an equal spread of sunshine
An equal fall of rain
An equal run of bad times in this world
Of the good men and the wicked
An equal fall of fortune
An equal spread of sunshine in this world
In this world

Every word spoken in hiding
Will one day be made known

Cause theres an equal spread of sunshine
An equal fall of rain
An equal run of bad times in this world
Of the good men and the wicked
An equal fall of fortune
An equal share of sunshine
In this world (x5)

An equal spread of sunshine in this world
In the sunshine
Your time will come
Your time will come
Theres an equal spread of sunshine sunshine, oh...
