

Dum Dums, Running Away

There are tears following us around
Flow like rain where we are found
Like rain in this godforsaken town
Where theres nothing to do but sit around

When theres no one to hold and your conversations leave you cold
Dont be down youve got to pull it all together
Try to be strong when your heart is weak and you can barely make it on your feet
Cause running away isnt gonna make your life better

When youre too depressed at the world going round so fast
Trying to make the moment last
When the thrill is everything but gone
All you can do is carry on

When theres no one to hold and your conversations leave you cold
Dont be down youve got to pull it all together
Try to be strong when your heart is weak and you can barely make it on your feet
Cause running away isnt gonna make your life better

You try to get away, try to get away but youre running along the road to your destruction
And the faster you run the further away from love you become til you that youve broken down
And then you start to drown

Close your eyes, youll be stronger in the morning
Wont feel like you are dying
Must be tired if your heart keep on aching
With every smile you're faking

When theres no one to hold and your conversations leave you cold
Dont be down youve got to pull it all together
Try to be strong when your heart is weak and you can barely make it on your feet
Cause running away isnt gonna make your life better (x2)

Make your life better
Make your life better
Make your life better
Cause running away isnt gonna make your life better
