

Dum Dums, The Postponed Life

Single mothers, college drop out Drunken teens, divorce you fall out
oo-oo-oh, oo-oo-oh
Leading the postponed life
The postponed life

The rock star in the guitar stock room
The ballet dancer in the police uniform
oo-oo-oh, oo-oo-oh
Leading the postponed life
The postponed life

And everybody's boat has gone to sea
And the worlds not slowing down
Slowing down slowing down
For anybody

The arch bishop in the jail cell
The astronaut behind the ch-ch-check out till
oo-oo-oh, oo-oo-oh
Leading the postponed life
The postponed life

The unborn children in the egg shells
Unwanted virgins with the p-p-pick up pills
oo-oo-oh, oo-oo-oh
Leading the postponed life
The postponed life

And everybody's boat has gone to sea
And the worlds not slowing down
Slowing down slowing down
For anybody

Music blocks our jailer
And it leave me in a wreck
The words breath up the oxygen
Like muses round our neck
Far more expectations
Than you I could expect
I can only take so much more of this

The focus phone booths in the sterile air Cleaned for the shoppers but there's no one there
oo-oo-oh, oo-oo-oh
Leading the postponed life
The postponed life

A million planets wait for atmosphere
A nuclear bomb waits for an ac-ac-accident
oo-oo-oh, oo-oo-oh
Leading the postponed life
The postponed life

And everybody's boat has gone to sea
And the worlds not slowing down
Slowing down slowing down
For anybody
For anybody
