Duncan Sheik, Serena

So what, life's rough You should get over yourself Like everyone else and enjoy The girls and the boys And everything in between Serena, in an effort to aviod The things that annoy you You hide-far, far away And life just passes you by Theme (Serena) x 1 Are you gonna give up Are you gonna give out Ain't that a shame You've got no one to blame But your conscience If it doesn't make sense I know that only to well So tell me Did it happen one day When the day that you faced Wasn't happening It just didn't bring Anything more Anything more than despair Theme (Serena) x 2 Do you remember, the morning would come And just like a child filled with the sun And the hours never seemed long Where have those days gone? Beyond us... Or so you would believe But I can't agree, those illusions Will you ever get through them And find the diamond, Find the diamond inside Theme (Serena) x ad inf
