Duncan Sheik, Start Again

Peace has lost its meaning now we've hit the ceiling all is said and all is done here goes start again

You're better than you think so something I hold onto I'm better too holding on to you start again

[CHORUS:]

(So meet me and we'll drive this car away we can leave right now what do you say we'll head out for the wide and open spaces if we can clear the way)

Save yourself don't save me save the one you may be let it be the best that it can be start again

[CHORUS (X2)]
