Duran Duran, Lady Xanax

Here comes the morning light you can't face Lie on your bed staring into space Watch the time slip gently by Don't ask why

So many friends but nobody calls Can't be alone when the darkness falls Got to make it to the party Socialise, break the ice

Oh, Lady Xanax where were you last night? All the cracks in your make-up are starting to show Don't think that you realise how far away you go now Look into the future and don't be afraid...afraid Of what is on your mind

There, in the emptiness deep inside You are the one that's been left behind So you paint with your mascara Social eyes, don't look twice

Oh, Lady Xanax where were you last night? All the cracks in your make-up are starting to show Don't think that you realise how far away you go now Look into the future and don't be afraid...afraid

Lady Xanax, you're out tonight Lady Xanax, you're, oh, so tired Lady Xanax, sleep well tonight
