Dustin Kensrue, Blanket Of Ghosts

I've got a feeling, it's hard to explain Feels like the devil rents a room in my brain The things im ashamed of feel like dear old st paul The things that I wanna do, I don't do at all

So bury me deep, cover me with snow Wrap me in sleep, blanket of ghosts

The spirit is willing, but the flesh is so weak I wanna kiss her lips, but I kissed her cheek Just hear my request, give this one on fair way Please take me home before it's too late

Bury me deep, cover me with snow Wrap me in sleep, blanket of ghosts

Wake me when it's spring time in heaven When the tears are all white from my face Wake me when it's spring time in heaven When I'm strong enough to walk in that place
