

Dwight Yoakam, The Back Of Your Hand when you give it up for gone but you're still digging in the mind and you're staring out the window saying everything will be just fine keepin with whole affair every word seems out of line no matter what angle you get its polished til it shines

(chorus)

take a guess at where i stand pick a number one to two take a look at the back of your hand just like you know it
you know me too

and when you say who the hell am i living with what just went down where did this come from why are all my colors faded brown when did it change whats with the rage whos the dude with the extra roll whats the verse, the line, the chapter, the page

(chorus)

take a look at the back of your hand

you think you're alone without any place left to go like you need one of those kisses long and slow firt glance is not what it seems but there's some things i just know like you take two sugars with a splash of cream you take a guess at where i stand oh pick a number one to two then take a look back of your hand

just like you know it
you know me too
yeah like you know it
just like you know it
