

Dynamite Boy, Man Of The Year

You don't know what I'm going through nothing is the way I want it too I search for something more meaningful turn up nothing but ridicule I'll make a change in my life when i decide that I'm through don't think a moment in time could ever shift what I say real life is such a mundane my world is growing away take time to brush the flowers turn everyday so sour

Everyday I think I'll change my mind course of action that will unwind started as a simple rivalry and ended with the world despising me I'll make a change in my life
when I decide that I'm through

how could blue skies
cause one to cry
what is it that hurts devotion what's a day dream
without a thing too

(how could blue skies)
(cause one to cry)
(what is it that hurts devotion)
(without a thing too)
