

Dystopia, Jarhead Fertilizer

education stable career join the army
become a murderer kill for god and country return to be a hero to tell you the truth
i hope you dont come back courage
it takes a big man to push a button fight with your honor like shotting children and cutting their parents throats go to the frontline watch your friends
get cooked by napalm and theyre murderers just like you getting education by killing people too bodies blown apart you feel a sharp pain in your stomach now youve lost both of your legs to a grenade blood and vomit spew from your mouth no career education and youre sent home in a doggy bag waste your life while taking others lives away from them left so empty
just a pile of shit to me and your parents looking stupid their son reduced to a pile of shit and dog tags but he did what he was programmed to do such a good soldier i hope youre fucking proud of your son fuck your son i hope he fucking dies
