E.L.O, Sorrow About To Fall

There's a silence in the city There's nobody around And everyone that we knew Moved to higher ground. There's a shadow hanging overhead It lingers there alone Changing all we ever knew The changes start to show. CHORUS: There's a sorrow about to fall There's a sorrow about to fall. There's a new sound in the wires And ears are to the ground And everything that once was ours Has slowly turned around. Something happened to the seasons Started falling with the rain And something changed forever We gotta find a way. REPEAT CHORUS There's people in the photographs But they all had to run They went away to somewhere Beyond the setting sun. RÉPEAT CHORUS REPEAT CHORUS Sorrow about to fall, fall, fall, fall Sorrow about to fall Sorrow about to fall Sorrow about to fall...
