

E-Type, The Predator

You gotta know that she is out there
When you're leaving for the night
She'll make you think that she is playing fair
That's the real start of the fight

So when you're feeling kinda lonely
That's when you see her come your way
You think that you're the one and only
But there is only hell to pay

Just before the darkness
She's ready to betray
She prays on every weakness
You and me are meant to pay

Just before the darkness
She does it every day
A drink before the war
This is the way she plays the game

So if you can just turn around here
Before she traps you in her maze
Time has come to hide away your fear
Cause you've seen her real face

So when you're feeling kinda lonely
That's when you see her come your way
You think that you're the one and only
But there is only hell to pay

Just before the darkness
She's ready to betray
She prays on every weakness
You and me are meant to pay

Just before the darkness
She does it every day
A drink before the war
This is the way she plays the game
