

Eager, Touch

Danger ahead
It's always been said
The night is watching, waiting
For us to turn its way instead
And when the day is over
The very thoughts I fear
Have come to visit me so clear
Beyond the third dimension
Beyond what I can see
I cannot touch what touches me
Under my skin
The feelings begin
I know you're there, I sense you
The air is thick where it was thin
So I rebuke the darkness
And I lift up my fear
Believing they will disappear
Beyond the third dimension
Beyond what I can see
I cannot touch what touches me