

Earl Thomas Conley, Dreaming's All I Do

I woke up crying, I thought I had a dream
But you would not answer up when I called your name
I ran to my window but all I saw was rain
I know you're going somewhere girl I can feel the pain

But I wouldn't dream of sleeping with anyone but you
And anyone who knows me knows that I love you
No I wouldn't dream of sleeping with anyone but you
But anyone can tell you dreaming's all I do

You always were a gypsy drifting like the wind
You never met a stranger just another friend
A tender hearted lover in a white laced scam
But when it's time for leaving you always bring me down

But I wouldn't dream of sleeping with anyone but you
And anyone who knows me knows that I love you
No I wouldn't dream of sleeping with anyone but you
But anyone can tell you dreaming's all I do

Yes anyone will tell you dreaming's all I do
