

Earlimart, Town Where You Belong

No you don't remember the town where you were born
Cause they never no no never open up the doors
In a dream that you were dreaming
Though I hope you knew for sure

It's the town you don't remember
The town where you were born

Well, you wiped out all your foot steps and you wiped out all your foes
Oh the comfort and the safety
That comes when your alone

It's the town you don't remember
The town where you were born

It's the town that you are leaving
The town where you belong

Heaven knows the reason
Heaven knows for sure

Heaven knows the reason
Heaven knows for sure

It's the town you are leaving
The town where you belong
