Earth Wind And Fire, Share Your Love

Maurice White & amp; Garry Glenn

Love is the light, gonna let it shine Living each day, you're sure to find Another heart that's warm and true shining the light in return to you

Share your love, don't try to restrain it Love, don't need to be afraid to Love, everybody get together Let every heart, around the world do its part

The voice of love, ringing loud and clear To every heart with a listening ear Hostage of hate and these chain of fear Send Dr. Love, they will disappear

Share your love, don't try to restrain it Love, don't need to be afraid to Love, everybody get together Let every heart, around the world do its part

You're number one, cause deep inside feelings still abide You're number one, you light the way night becomes the day
You're number one, cause we feel it's true Yes, inside we do
You're number one

Share your love, don't try to restrain it Love, don't need to be afraid to Love, everybody get together Let every heeart, around the world do its part
