

Earth, Wind And Fire, Sparkle

Maurice White, Eddie DelBarrio & Philip Bailey

On a golden sky, you my sparkle flying high My vibration start to rhyme and it chimes with loves direction Now, I'm traveling my cares unraveling, flying high, just you and me Feeling free along loves highway

Lover forever unfolds magical moments together
and the fire to ignite melodies tonight
Birds can only sing the song we write
Harmonies in tune that reflect the moon
Sparkle you're so rare and lovely in my sight

Just give me a sign, and be my valentine Let the arrow full of light, pierce the night with loves affection Sharing blissfully making history Fragments of your loving smile a little while will last forever

Lover forever unfolds magical moments together
and the fire to ignite melodies tonight
Birds can only sing the song we write
Harmonies in tune that reflect the moon
Sparkle you're so rare and lovely in my sight

You're my valentine you create a rhyme all the birds can sing our song divine Sparkle like a star, sparkling you are Glistening in my heart you light my sky

Love forever unfolds magical moments together
and the fire to ignite melodies tonight
Birds can only sing the song we write
Harmonies in tune that reflect the moon
Sparkle you're so rare and lovely in my sight
