

Earth, Wind & Fire, Anything You Want

Ian Prince

You were so right all along I wouldn't believe till love had gone replacing the old with the new and now that I want to see it through

You tell me you care but he's still inside your heart and it's tearing me apart that I'm anything you want chorus:

I'll be there to listen to everything you cry all you need ever to believe in you without a reason why for your love

I'll be near to be with you to wipe the tear away though it's hard for me I'm anything you want (I'll be anything...)

Baby, it was so wrong and we both knew and yet it was all that I could do you were living a life you could not feel thinking he was the way to make it real

Can't let him go
I'm still a part of you I'll do what I must do anything you want

bridge:
Every time you talk about him you'll never know how it hurts my heart but, I'll be there for you baby

He's still inside your heart it's tearing me apart
anything you want
I'll be there...
