

Earthsuit, Nightfall

Night falls and the day breaks
Cycle through the seasons but you'll only find the future
In the nightfall

There's midnight inside morning's song but no one wants to face it
Ambitious night is burnt and gone
Only daybreak can replace it

Have you ever seen yourself inside a moment tainted
With tragedies that tell the story that your life created

Loss reflects hope to gain
The darkness leaves you jaded
Progress is attached to pain
But nightfall's almost faded