

Easily amused, When you're gone

Out of my mind
You're still in my head
I drive in the rush hour traffic
Wondering where
Where I belong
At this major intersection
I want you tonight but it all seems wrong
We could have everything or lose it all
I'll still be waiting for your call
When you're gone
I'm in the dark
I am alone
Wish I could hear you coming home
There's so much pain
It never stops
Every since we fell apart
I want you tonight but it all seems wrong
We could have everything or lose it all
I'll still be waiting for your call
When you're gone
I could never be true to you I know
But in my head it's feeling clear and makes sense of what I want
I know
I hate sleeping in a cold bed
Waking up so far from the truth
There's just no use
Are we finished now?
Is it really over now?
I want you tonight but it all seems wrong
We could have everything or lose it all
I'll still be waiting for your call
When you're gone
