

Echo Image, Listen To The Stars

The world is
Treating her like nothing
Everyday she's watching
Shadows crawling outside her door
Trying
To find out why she's crying
Everyday is hopeless
When did her world start to go down?

She sits there waiting for the light
While the stars are shining bright
The wind is singing her song
Why did she trust him anyway?
She listens to the stars they say
You have to be on your way

The girl is
Staring at her picture
Memories are fading
Like a shadow swallows the light
Running
Escaping from herself
She can't stay in this world
She closes her eyes and waits for an angel

She sits there waiting for the light
While the stars are shining bright
The wind is singing her song
Why did she trust him anyway?
She listens to the stars they say
You have to be on your way
