Ed Bruce, When You Fall In Love Everything's A

We don't dance the two-step anymore All we need's a small part of the floor The band can go on playin' almost anything it wants When you fall in love everything's a waltz

Eyes were meant for lookin' into real close Arms were meant for holdin' what you want the most Lips were meant to say what bodies feel down in their hearts When you fall in love everything's a waltz

We don't dance the two-step anymore All we need's a small part of the floor The band can go on playin' almost anything it wants When you fall in love everything's a waltz

We don't hear the music that is being played But all we need's the music that our two hearts make Beating soft three-quarter time and we just sing along When you fall in love everything's a waltz

We don't dance the two-step anymore All we need's a small part of the floor The band can go on playin' almost anything it wants When you fall in love everything's a waltz

Oh the band can go on playin' almost anything it wants Cause we're in love and everything's a waltz
