

Eddy Arnold, I Really Don't Want To Know

How many arms have held you and hated to let you go
How many how many I wonder but I really don't want to know
How many lips have kissed you and set your soul aglow
How many how many I wonder but I really don't want to know

So always make me wonder always make me guess
And even if I ask you darling don't confess
Just let it remain me your secret but darling I love you so
No wonder no wonder I wonder no I really don't want to know
