

Eddy Arnold, What A Fool I Was

What a fool I was to ever let you go
A sweeter love than yours I'll never know
Darling I was so unwise and now I realize
What a fool I was to ever let you go

I'm so lonely as I write this note to you
Sweetheart I know that I still love you true
Now that we are far apart there's a longing in my heart
What a fool I was to ever let you go

Sweetheart I know that I was once to blame
I wonder if you love me just the same
How now worry dear am I I regret the last goodbye
What a fool I was to ever let you go

Oh won't you try to give me one more chance
My darling let's renew our old romance
It will mean the world to me if you'll let me this last plea
Oh my darling won't you give me one more chance

What a fool I was to ever let you go...
