Edguy, New Age Messiah

Countless pointing fingers
A nameless crowd too swollen to analyze
Takes a rise out of the stranger
Don't know where he's come from
Bumfuck raises birds of paradise
They surmise - very wise
One night they witnessed
How he lit his backdoor winds
Fire turned the night into day
And they prayed, fell on their knees
And turned their glances off his face,
They know they've been chosen to obey

Pardon me
Raise a graven image
I'm the new messiah for the world
You can't see the splendor of my nimbus
But I'm the new messiah for the world
For the blind

The word shall spread like wildfire You got a new messiah holding sway Delightful game Don't you give away: I'm no redeemer But bring me grapes and diamonds right away And a maid to lay...

One day oblivion will swallow up my fame The common run of mankind will forget my name Forget my name Like a phoenix rising someone else is gonna reign

'Til then you know that you are to obey me

Pardon me
Raise a graven image
I'm the new messiah for the world
You can't see the splendor of my nimbus
But I'm the new messiah for the world
I'm the new messiah for the world

Gluttony and ecstasy, there's velvet on my dais Lions, ladies, rotaries they never spare with praise A million pointing fingers Have turned to clapping hands Now I'm off to Betty Ford, See you in hell my friends

Pardon fucking me, who the fucking fuck is Jesus Motherfucking new messiah For the fucking world

Pardon me
Raise a graven image
I'm the new messiah for the world
You can't see the splendor of my nimbus
But I'm the new messiah for the world
I'm the new messiah for the blind
For the blind
