Edguy, Superheroes

City lights are calling - slowly coming back to life Speeding in the fastlane - Mama let us waste no time Devil in the doorway - selling any kind of hell We're just coming out to play the game

And we never cry for love We're superheroes We are back where we belong We never cry for pain We're superheroes Make a stand where we belong

Way too long I've tried to be what I could never be For too long you've rolled the dice But you can't control me I ain't talking about romance you may fiddle I may dance Anyway it's just a game we play

And we never cry for love We're superheroes We are back where we belong We never cry for pain We're superheroes Make a stand where we belong

You gotta move to stay alive We're gonna rock the bash tonight..

Cry for love - We're superheroes We are back where we belong

And we never cry for love We're superheroes We are back where we belong We never cry for pain We're superheroes Make a stand where we belong
