

Edible Red, As You Do

As You Do by: Edible Red

Sad to see, ashamed to say it's over and it's ending it's ridiculous I'll miss you yes, but I must go you've gotta know it kills me when you get so condescending tell me: going please and please and please now I must go

Don't want nothing from you darlin, it's enough to know you're sorry I stained my socks, I scratched my nose. from picking eggshells from my toes my soles are soaked with yolk, I've gotta go

And you protest I just don't bite it's truly un-required and I didn't know it was one sided So I gotta go,

At this point nothing matters, don't be angry, just be flattered cuz no one offends me, as gently, as you do then drives me, on empty as sweetly as you do then lets me down easy, as fearlessly as you

And hindsight may provide a twist and insight not so black and white from our first kiss to our last tryst I've gotta go

Your state of mentality has me longing for clarity yeah cuz no one offends me, as gently, as you do

sad to see ashamed to say it's over,
sad to see ashamed to say its over
sad to see ashamed to say it's over...

Cuz no one offends me, as gently, as you do
then lets me down easy, as fearlessly as you

oh oh, I must go, I must go
