

Edith Frost, Hide Out

Tell me about your sister
I heard you went to see her
Does it seem like she's never been
So frayed around the edges
Did she seem so alone to you
Detached from all the others
So she told it to her brother
And you saw it all so clear

She needs to find
Someplace to hide out
She'll be alright
She'll take the time out
You're the only one
That ever told her
She had to get some help
To remind her of herself

Tell me about your sister
She's holding out a picture
Does she know what it means to you
All torn around the edges
Did she always seem so confused
Or did it come to know her
Did it come to take her over
Coming slowly through the years

She needs to find
Someplace to hide out
She'll be alright
She'll take the time out
You're the only one
That ever told her
She had to get some help
To remind her of herself

She needs to find
Someplace to hide out
She'll be alright
She'll take the time out
You're the only one
That ever told her
She needed someone else
To remind her of herself
