

Editors, Push Your Head Towards The Air

If I lay face
down on the ground,
would you walk all over me?
Have we learnt
What we set out to learn?
well then love we will see.

Now don't drown in your tears, babe
Push your head towards the air.
Now don't drown in your tears, babe
I will always be there.

When you fall and you,
Can't find your way,
Push a hand up to the sky.
I will run just to,
To be by your side,

Don't you ever bat an eye.

Now don't drown in your tears, babe
Push your head towards the air.
Now don't drown in your tears, babe
I will always be there

"But I will tear the price from your head,
And keep you from harm" that's what you said.
There's people climbing out of their cars
Lining the roadside,
Try to glimpse at the dead.

Now don't drown in your tears, babe
Push your head towards the air.
Now don't drown in your tears, babe
I will always be there.
