

Editors, Sugar

Don't leave, don't leave,
I want you to realize when I'm gone.
My my, my my,
You are the only thing I want to own.

There's sugar on your soul,
You're like no one I know,
You're the life of another world.

You swallow me whole,
With just a mumbled hello,
And it breaks my heart to love you, it breaks my heart to love you.

Don't leave, don't leave,
When you're lost in the moment, I am home.
I tried, I tried
To make you realize when I'm gone, gone, gone.

There's sugar on your soul,
You're like no one I know,
You're the life of another world.

You swallow me whole,
With just a mumbled hello,
And it breaks my heart to love you, it breaks my heart to love you.

It breaks my heart to love you.

There's sugar on your soul,
There's sugar on your soul.

There's sugar on your soul,
You're like no one I know,
You're the life of another world.

You swallow me whole,
With just a mumbled hello,
And it breaks my heart to love you, it breaks my heart to love you.

Don't leave, don't leave,
I want you to realize when I'm gone.
