

Edwyn Collins, Never Felt Like This

It's a higher state of being
A different way of seeing
That I really can't resist
It seems I've stolen every scene
From the carnival of dreams
And I've never felt like this

I've never felt like this
Never felt like this
Never felt like this
And ignorance is bliss

There's no point in reminiscing
Now I've found that something missing
In every stolen kiss
I was lost in introspection
I can tell you on reflection
That I've never felt like this

I've never felt like this
Never felt like this
Never felt like this
Never felt like this

What you are is a fallen star
Burning up on a bridge to far
What I am is an also ran
Getting by any way I can

I can because I can
I can't explain exactly how I feel
I only know that the feeling's real
I've never felt like this
What you are is a falling star
