

Eggstone, Beach Boy

you need some good vibrations a holiday in the sun whatever you might need now it's the time to find it just shut your mind out for a while an island in the sun she's looking good the sunwashed streets go down down to the ocean
now she turns on her charm the way you like
you make it all the time and watch the sun go down relaxing in the sun splash, in the sun-warmed water the beach's so white it hurts your eyes you're spending lazy days you watch the boys go surfing
you watch white brakers crash on the palm-lined beach an easy way of life
life by the ocean
the way you like it
