

Electric Six, Slices Of You

I'm late for dinner but look who's on the menu
'cos when I'm in a hurry nothing tastes as good as you do
Whisper in my ear all your culinary wishes
Next thing you know you're washing the dishes
Your table is ready for me
I'm happy to seat you

Slices of you
I'd really like another slice of you
That's so nice of you
I'd really like another slice of you
That's so nice of you
I'd really like another slice or two
I'd really like another slice of you

I'm late for dinner but look who's on the menu
'cos when I get a table you know damn well I get a table for two
Preheat the oven so the cooking is best
I trained at the very best kitchens in France
My service is slow and I hope this doesn't offend you

Slices of you
I'd really like another slice of you
That's so nice of you
I'd really like another slice of you
That's so nice of you
I'd really like another slice or two
[Slice of you]
I'd really like another slice of you

(spoken)
And everywhere I go, people ask me,
"Valentine, what's your recipe for love?"
My answer's always the same:
Cook the hell out of it, and slice it

If music be the food of love, play on
But I'm really too hungry for just one song
And so I pose a final plea to you
I'd really like another slice of you
That's so nice of you
[Nice of you]
I'd really like another slice of you
[Slice of you]
I'd really like another slice of you

I'm late for dinner but look who's on the menu
'cos when I'm in a hurry nothing tastes as good as you do
