

Electric Soft Parade, Cold World

I wanna get rid of this feeling
I want to be a part of everything
Like the way it all should be

Cause I've been living in a cold world
the kind that has itself wrapped around you Fumbling for some kind of love

And in the middle of the night you'll worry about it and it'll never go away
You understand it all and that is way much more than you should ever have known

I will wait, I will hope and pray that you'll be there

You've got to part with all the bad stuff
I gotta say it does you no favours
Fumbling for some kind of love

Cause I've been living in a cold world
The kind that has itself curled around you
Fumbling for some kind of love
