

Elegy, Darkest Night

You took the step and slipped away
Enchanted by a friendly face
You thought it was love

It took your life out of your hands
You never dreamt that it would ever and never end
Bought and sold

Should have seen it from the start
He stole your love and broke your heart
Love out on display

Among your shattered dreams you stand
Make a reason out of hollow words
What's it worth

[Chorus]

Oh oh oh You'll never be the same
Put your trust on love
You're not alone

Oh oh oh I'll lighten up your darkest night
Close your eyes
I will be your day

Seasons come and seasons go
A miracle about to show
Love will come around

Put yourself back in the light
Lose the shadows of your darkest night
You'll be fine

[Chorus]
