

Eleni Mandell, Meant to Be in Love

We were meant to be lovers
I know the truth
Just one more kiss for me
Another kiss for you

We were meant to be strangers
I'll never tell
You may just look away
But I know you so well

I know my husband cares for me
I know my darling does
But when I bear his son
He'll look like you because
We were meant to be in love

We were meant to be lovers
We were meant to be close
And when you're lying with another girl
I know you love me the most

We were meant to be lonely
Yes, this I know
It's always you and me
I'll never let you go

I know my husband cares for me
I know my darling does
But when I bear his son
He'll look like you because
We were meant to be in love.
