

Elephantis, State of Mind

My friend
You are hurting
I see the pain in your eyes
You walk hand in hand with a self demise

A constant fight between love and hatred
You fear this fight will be soon be lost
But this lesson learnt in time is now created

These paths we take may overlap
The things we learn will bring us closer
Destroy this divide between us

On days your heart looks to sink to the depths
But your eyes hold the chalice so you can raise your head
I hope you can see this light soon

Don't encourage their bad intentions
Fuck your reputation
Because you are the better man

With strength, grace of Gods
We can reignite each others hearts
Holding out a hand to you
I extend the promise

With strength, grace of Gods
We can reignite each others hearts
I extend the promise

And the wind will still carry you on
Through the storms that found you
Keeping you warm
I will be there too see you through

And the wind still carries you on
Light as a feather now
Free from this
Now you're whole

Everyone goes through their tribulations
It's time to pick yourself up and think

This is only a state of mind
So go on and save yourself