

Eleventy Seven, Fight To Save Your Life

Don't believe in everything that people try to tell you
And don't buy into everything the market tries to sell you
They have no clue what's good for you
When time is done and hope is gone
We'll still hold on to the truth

Join the fight to save your life
Don't leave it up to everybody else
Join the fight this is your time

You've got to use your mind to save your soul

Don't give into ads that try to tell you who to be
When what you are is obvious for everyone to see
Just take this step to be your self
When time is done and hope is gone
We'll still hold on to the truth

Hallelujah, hallelujah