

Elise Estrada, One last time

It'd be easier if there was someone else I might understand if we had a fight and we're lying here but you're somewhere else I don't wanna see what you don't feel so just turn out the light I know you tried but your heart ain't gonna fake it
If it ain't love there's no way I can take it so exposed I might as well be naked and I've been praying but I just cant make you love me and it burns my heart
that you don't feel the flame no I just cant make you love me so hold me like you mean it and ill pretend to feel it one last time don't say a word baby please don't speak just hold me close and let me make-believe I don't wanna hurt till the morning break just pretend it's not they end to spend one last time with me
ain't gonna fake it
so exposed I might as well be naked

i know it's no ones fault but it's just not meant for you and you can't make your heart feel the way i feel for you it's not right to keep me hangin on just give me one more night before we both move on...
but I just cant make you love me
and ill pretend you feel it well i just cant make you love me
