

Ella Chi, Cuz He Needed Me

He said my name
He caught my eye
The floor was gone
Suddenly I'm back again
Back to the place where
We started it all
And now I get
That jelly feeling
You kiss me
I never thought I'd see your face
Oh such an empty space
I feel better
How did you find me?
In the parlor
Of the lonely

He crossed the oceans and the seven seas
Country lanes and the city streets
Cuz he needed me
Stepping the stones up the garden path
He brought me flowers, decorated my heart
Cuz he needed me
Cuz he needed me
Cuz he needed me

Felt good before
But he was unsure
Something changed
Something in his mind he re arranged
Glad I understood
Cuz though it broke me
I had to let him go
He must have missed me
But not anymore
He has realized
Its time to make it right
I feel better
How did you find me?
In the parlor
Of the lonely

He crossed the oceans and the seven seas
Country lanes and the city streets
Cuz he needed me
Stepping the stones up the garden path
He brought me flowers, decorated my heart
Cuz he needed me
Cuz he needed me
Cuz he needed me

And I thought you'd never come
Thought you were gone forever

He crossed the oceans and the seven seas
Country lanes and the city streets
Cuz he needed me
Stepping the stones up the garden path
He brought me flowers, decorated my heart
Cuz he needed me
Cuz he needed me
Cuz he needed me
