

Ellie Campbell, Sweet Lies

Baby please keep telling sweet lies

My mistake was loving you
Much more than your loving me
And though you say that your heart is true
Your words are kinda empty
Well i suspect but i don't dare so cross your heart and darling swear
That the moon and the stars you'll always be there

No don't stop telling these sweet sweet lies
Or you know my hearts gonna break
I guess thats why they say love is blind
So keep on telling sweet lies

Always seems like your somewhere else
Somewhere i just cannot reach
Lets get back to the way love fades
Coz i don't wanna believe
That my intuition right
Say you'll stay and save my life
Say the love in your heart will be burning bright

No don't stop telling these sweet sweet lies
Or you know my hearts gonna break
I guess thats why they say love is blind
So keep on telling sweet lies

So if i'm a fool
If i'm loving i'm not
Or if i've gotta swallow my pride
And it's a small sacrifice

No don't stop telling these sweet sweet lies
Or you know my hearts gonna break
I guess thats why they say love is blind
So keep on telling sweet lies

So tell me baby there will be no other
Don't brake my heart no i don't want to suffer
Just need you baby to make it alright
Baby please keep telling sweet lies

Keep telling those sweet sweet lies

Swear it baby
Swear you'll alwayz be there
Save my life and promise me you'll be there
Say you'll stay
And stay for all time
Baby please keep telling sweet lies

No don't stop telling these sweet sweet lies
Or you know my hearts gonna break
I guess thats why they say love is blind
So keep on telling sweet lies

sweet lies
sweet lies
sweet lies
